From Invoice Overload to Time Saved

With years of plumbing expertise, Service First Mechanical is a trusted choice for commercial and residential projects. Its team handles jobs of any size with clear communication from start to finish.

Service First Mechanical Inc.
815-795-3060   815-791-2889

By understanding each client's needs, Service First Mechanical delivers reliable plumbing solutions backed by exceptional service, ensuring every project is done right.

The Challenge

Service First Mechanical was reviewing 800–1,000 supplier invoices every month, line by line. While the process uncovered thousands of dollars in billing errors, it was painfully time-consuming and exhausting. The owner was running the business while also spending countless hours buried in invoices, leaving little room for growth and strategy.

> "3rd Armor gave Service First Mechanical back valuable time. The system finds everything, and invoices no longer dominate the workday."
>
> — Seth Watchinski, Owner

The Solution

3rd Armor stepped in to take over the time-consuming manual review process. The system now automatically audits every supplier invoice line by line, removing the burden of manually combing through 800–1,000 invoices each month. What once required countless hours of tedious work is now streamlined into an efficient, automated process.

Instead of relying on one person's limited bandwidth, the software catches every discrepancy—no matter how small. On average, it flags 15–20% of invoices each month with pricing errors, ensuring that costly mistakes no longer slip through. By uncovering issues the manual process often missed, 3rd Armor not only increased savings but also freed Service First Mechanical to focus more attention on running the business.

To learn more about Service First Mechanical, please visit www.servicefirstplumbing.net

3rd Armor is a leading invoice auditing and cost recovery platform, specializing in automated invoice verification and supplier price monitoring for small, mid-market, and enterprise businesses. Our software provides unmatched accuracy in identifying overcharges, recovering lost dollars, and protecting margins with full visibility into every invoice.